

УДК

DOI: <http://dx.doi.org/10.15674/0030-598720244117>

Report on the seminar-meeting of orthopedic traumatologists with international participation «Current issues in traumatology and orthopedics»

Despite all the challenges, we keep on working, sharing our experience and improving!

Even in the conditions of power outages and shelling, our front-line city remains a center of professional growth. Under the chairmanship of the head of Zaporizhzhia Regional Association of Orthopedic Traumatologists, Professor Maksym Golovakha, a seminar-meeting of orthopedists and traumatologists with international participation “Current Issues of Traumatology and Orthopedics” was held.

Leading specialists from Zaporizhzhia institutions — the State Medical and Pharmaceutical University, the military hospital, the regional clinical hospital, the city hospital for emergency and first aid — delivered reports.

The report of a colleague from the UK, Dr. Juan De Dios Robinson, who currently works on the UK-Med line at Zaporizhzhia Regional Clinical Hospital and has significant experience in providing assistance to victims in combat conditions, deserves special attention.

We also warmly welcomed our friend and colleague from Israel, the renown professional Alexander Chelnokov, who joined us online and shared his unique experience.

M. O. Kozhem'yaka spoke about the peculiarities of providing care to patients with osteoporosis in a front-line city.

A. V. Sekh, M. V. Virsky spoke about reconstructive and plastic surgeries in patients with complex soft tissue defects due to injuries received in combat operations.

In the report “Our experience of closed retrograde intramedullary osteosynthesis of distal tibial fractures” E. V. Yatsun, D. V. Ivchenko, S. F. Kyrpychenko revealed many relevant issues.

“Battle trauma of the pelvis — a multidisciplinary approach in war” was reported by I. I. Trufanov.

We sincerely thank all the listeners and speakers for their active participation.

Special thanks to VISTA, which helped organize and hold this important event. Your support is extremely valuable, as you represent a wide range of modern therapeutic agents for the treatment of musculoskeletal diseases and always support educational initiatives of the traumatology community.

Together we hold on, learn, improve and move forward!

Figure. Photo report of the conference

Golovakha M. L.